"I informed my friend that I had just received from England a Journal of a Tour made in the South of France, by a young Quaker friend of mine, a poet, a draughtsman, and a scholar, in which he gives such an animated and interesting description of Chateau Grives, the dwelling of Madame de Sevigne's beloved daughter, and frequently the place of her own residence, that no one who ever read the book would be within forty miles of the same without going a pilgrimage to the spot. The marquis smiled, seemed very much pleased, and asked the title at length of the work in question, and writing down to my dictation, "An Itinerary of Provence and the Rhone, made during the year 1810, by John Hughes, A.M. of Oriel College, Oxford," observed, he could not purchase the rights for the Chateau, but would recommend that the Itinerary should be commissioned for the library to which he was attached in the neighbouring town."—*Sir Walter
